Cleanup Costs: All county owned locations will be inspected during the pre-production and post production checks. The renter is responsible for restoring the location to the original condition of the first day of rental. If the location is not left at the original condition of the first day of rental the Renter is responsible for paying the costs associated with restoring the location and the daily rate for each day needed to restore the location. Additionally if the film office has to clean up the location following the rental, the following fees will be due:

- Normal daily trash left at location (cups, to go containers, etc.) - $100 fee

There will be no public property bond: The rental of county owned property shall operate on the “Right of First Refusal” as is the common practice in the motion picture industry. If a piece of property is booked for a certain date with the Development Authority of Douglas County and another production company requests the same property for the same date, the first Renter will be given the “Right of First Refusal” and must commit to pay for the property whether they use it or not or the must release the location for the date in question.

Check-in and Check-out Procedures: On the first day of rental, the site representative will complete a check-in and go over the property with a representative from the production company (preferably the Location Manager). Upon completing Strike, the site representative will do a check-out with a representative from the production company (preferable the Location Manager). Any issues or items that need to be corrected prior to signing a release will be documented and discussed at that time.

Daily location fees: Any variation from the basic fees will be at the discretion of the Development Authority of Douglas County.
